Welcome to Akureyri

Fire and Ice

Few destinations around the world seem to attract as much word-of-mouth love as Akureyri. Nestled at the head of Iceland's longest (60 km) fjord, the Eyjafjordur Channel, this charming city is located at the base of snow-capped peaks. In summer, flowerboxes, trees and well-tended gardens belie the location, just a stone's throw from the Arctic Circle. And while winter carpets the landscape in powdered snow, a hot summer's day begs for a dip in the Akureyri geothermal swimming pool.

Don't miss the opportunity to take a stroll through Innbærinn, the oldest part of town, where colorful timber houses line the strip of land between pond Leirutjorn and a steep hill with a seaside view.

For a town of just 18,000 inhabitants, Akureyri also offers a surprising number of cool cafes, quality restaurants and something of a late-night bustle – a far cry from other towns in rural Iceland. And since the town's residents have been widely known for their interest in gardening right from the beginning of the 19th century, they are now recognized among Icelandic population centers for their fertile and lush vegetation.

From whale watching, to soaking in natural baths, to the truly spectacular northern lights dancing across the sky in striking green, purple and even red, the activities and images are endless and the excitement, ongoing!

SAFETY ASHORE INFORMATION

While you will find many great experiences ashore, please remain vigilant about your personal safety and the safety of your belongings. As in any large urban tourist destination, you'll want to take some basic precautions to make the most of your time ashore.

- Be aware of your surroundings at all times. Avoid short cuts, narrow alleys and poorly lit streets.
- Avoid wandering from the main shopping and tourist areas into unfamiliar territory. If venturing out independently, have a plan, use only licensed taxi operators.
- Identity/Credit Card theft can occur anywhere. Please remain vigilant in monitoring the safe keeping of your personal information.
- Leave valuables in your room safe and avoid carrying large amounts of cash. Exercise caution when using ATMs. Cameras and handbags should be carried close to your body or concealed out of sight.
- Leave air transportation tickets and other travel documents in your room safe. When going ashore, each adult is required to carry a Driver's license, passport or other government-issued photo ID. Note: Some ports may require guests to carry passports ashore.
- Most crimes are easier to commit in dark unlit areas. When going ashore at night, please be extra vigilant about your personal safety.
